Minoan Stone Vases by Peter Warren

Peter Warren

A descriptive inventory, with various drawings and photographs, of greater than 3,500 stone vases from the Minoan civilisation of historical Crete. With few exceptions, Dr Warren has studied the vases in corpora. He arranges them into types, discusses many of the stones used and their sources, tools of manufacture, the possible utilization and goal of the vases, and their relation to steel and clay vessels. A distinct research is made from the recognized vases Minoan Stone Vases sporting scenes in relief. The ultimate part summarises the historical past and stylistic improvement of the vases, and discusses the types, relationship and distribution of these that have been exported. Dr Warren additionally documents Egyptian and Syro-Palestinian vases imported into Crete, due to the fact those are a part Minoan Stone Vases of the corpus of stone vase fabric within the island and supply invaluable symptoms of the overseas alternate of the Minoans.
