Linna defined the battle as an prepared violence and humanity has not anything to do with it. The tale itself used to be great, yet Linna's narration of the characters' minds and feelings is what i like the most. Aune and Pretti Leppänen aren't my favourite characters, yet they're so memorable. i do not like their tale yet i love their narration. In addition, the sadness, provocations, happiness and all attainable emotions have been captured in a superb share with good selected words. Beautiful. And well, afterall, possibly it is not exaggerating to assert that this booklet is certainly an entire and pleasing ancient fiction novel. an exceptional Reconciliation (Under the North Star #3) one (if you may have time and patience).
