Jack Roma is at a crossroads in his life. Will he persist within the footsteps of his idolized uncles, either gamblers within the prepared crime relatives identified in Chicago as the Outfit? Or will he emulate the hardscrabble, boring, but sincere lifetime of his father, a mail truck driver? Jack's dilemma, while the Outfit objectives his uncles for execution, is worsened as he starts dating with the daughter of the Outfit boss who has ordered the uncles' execution. Whilst no longer wrestling together with his dilemma, Jack is a highschool senior who, together with his friends, flex their maturing gangster muscular tissues in a number of ways: on the all-boys Catholic excessive school, the place the stress among the Italians and their sworn enemies, the blacks and the demented Irish priests, serves as a lit fit to tinder; at dances and parties, the place the town boys mimic their older brethren through taking what, and whom, they want.
